

Creative Strand: Stimulus 12

Rachel Gadsen, Paralympic Handover

Image description

On a jet-black backdrop a series of brightly coloured paint strokes appear to dance in the space. Two central mirrored small circles in yellow connect through a yellow arch giving the impression of two moving bodies. Fainter white strokes appear further in the background and create the impression of more movement.

On the Artist

Rachel is a British artist who is exhibited internationally and who works across the mainstream and disability art sectors, presenting cross-cultural visual dialogues that consider the most profound notions of what it is to be human.
